Riverside's SUMMER reading & math

RPDS teachers believe that summer reading, math, foreign language and study skills activities help keep their students' minds active and better prepared to enter the next grade level. Summer months are perfect for students to dedicate some time to reading and reviewing skills they have acquired during the school year.

The following list of recommended summer reading, math and foreign language practice is provided by our RPDS teachers. Completing these recommendations will prepare the students for the new school year.
